AMERICAN SEAPLANES MAKE SUCCESSFUL 1,200 MILE TRIP TO THE AZORES

JUNIOR RECEPTION ONE OF THE MOST BRILLIANT EVENTS IN SCHOOL HISTORY

A royal purple event that will stand out brilliantly in the annals of Central High School social history was the annual reception and banquet tendered the members of the graduating class of 1919, by the Juniors in the rooms of the Business Men's Association, Friday evening.

The affair was a departure from the usual type of Junior reception, and it involved a lengthy program, consisting of the formal reception, the banquet, a pleasing program of after-dinner speeches, the presentation of a clever little playlet, "A Case of Suspicion," by the Juniors, and finally, dancing, in direct contradiction to the usual affairs of the sort.

In the assembly room of the Association on the third floor, which was fittingly decorated in the red and white of the Seniors, the hosts and hostesses, the Juniors, received their guests. In the receiving line were Lawrence Riddell, class president; Miss Imogene Mullen; Walker Taylor, vice president; Miss Lois Benbow; Miss Margaret Ballentine, secretary; Miss Eva Arnold, treasurer; Arthur Bales, chairman of the house committee; Miss Anita Moser and Allan Kestle, toastmaster.

Lawrence Riddell, Junior president, made the address of welcome to the Seniors, and Earl Hartsock, Senior president, responded.

The room was attractively decorated and mirrored the patient efforts of the decorating committee and those assisting. The red and white of the Seniors predominated, being festooned from the chandeliers, draped around the dainty flower pots, and blended with the natural greenery of the potted plants, which were banked in the corners. A large red and white canopy shaded the platform, at one end of the room, which served as the stage for the production of the playlet.

A punch-bowl was featured in one corner, surrounded by greenery. The corridor was also decked in red and white, and arranged with cosy corners.

At half past seven the receiving class and the guests, including the Seniors, members of the faculty, Superintendent and Mrs. Patterson, and members of the board of education, were seated at pretty tables in the big dining room, there being covers for 150 people. The room itself was most charming in its new dress of purple and gold, the Junior colors. The colors were emphasized in streamers that crossed and re-crossed the ceiling and fell in festoons down the side walls. Purple festoons shaded the lights, and the beautiful wisteria, interlaced into white lattice work, was empaneled on the sides. The colors hung from every window shade and light and small paper butterflies created a natural effect as they poised gracefully on the decorations. Japanese lanterns helped create the pretty Oriental effect that was the keynote of the decorative scheme.

The same effect was carried out in the place cards. A copy of the Japanese maiden graced each card, the dainty work of Miss Mary Katherine Dadds. The menus intermingled the purple and gold, both in the print color and the cord which bound the booklet. A gold dragon, the emblem of the Juniors, graced the front of the menu card.

A Japanese menu was further used in carrying out the Oriental, the menu being printed in the Japanese lettering. The banquet was served in four courses and the menu consisted of lemon ice, veal croquettes, creamed potatoes, pea patties, rolls, butter and pickles, salad and wafers, purple and gold ice cream, cake, coffee and mints.

Allen Kestle acted as toastmaster and introduced the after dinner speakers who responded to toasts as follows: Jacob Kany, representing the school board, "Head Over Heels," Miss Jean B. Elwell, of the English Department, "Where My Caravan Has Rested;" Supt. John R. Patterson, "I'm Sorry I Made You Cry;" Miss Katherine Hollencamp, Senior, "Garden of My Dreams;" Miss Thelma Flannery, Junior, "Friends;" Herby Flynn, Junior, "After You've Gone;" Robert Hurley, Senior, "Till We Meet Again;" Miss Coffin, High School Faculty, "I'm Always Chasing Rainbows."

A clever little playlet was that presented by a cast of Juniors following the after dinner speeches. The playlet was "A Case of Suspicion," and presented Miss Gladys Shadrach as "Dorothy;" Miss Imogene Mullen as "Alice;" Miss Anita Moser as "Mildred;" Robert Milburn as "Harold;" Walter Taylor as "Tom;" Arthur Bales as "Jack;" Miss Catherine Conklin as "The Matron;" Willard Taylor, as "The Professor;" Miss Pauline McFadden as "Kathleen," and Isadore Hyman as "Jones."

Following the presentation of the playlet, the Juniors and their guests enjoyed themselves informally, many of them dancing, for which music was furnished by the Shepherd orchestra, and many lounging about, watching the dancers, or taking adantage of the parlor and Victrola of the club on the second floor.

There has probably never been a more brilliant event in the social history of the school, surely not a more brilliant reception in many days.

The decorations were more than usually beautiful and bespoke much credit for the efficient decorating committee, headed by Miss Eva Arnold, and her capable assistants. Music was furnished by the Shepherd orchestra during the banquet course and for the dancing later in the evening.

As appreciation for her co-operation and assistance in painting the place cards, the Juniors presented Miss Mary Katherine Dadds with three silver spoons.

WILLIAM CRISS FOUND GUILTY OF GRAND LARCENY

William C. Criss, colored barber, was convicted of the charge of grand larceny, for aiding and abetting his wife, Leona Criss, in the theft of $500 from the room of Henry Devilbiss, white, the night of February 9.

The jury returned at verdict at 1:20 Saturday afternoon, after half an hour's deliberation. The trial was in progress before Judge Kyle and a jury since Friday morning, and the court room was thronged throughout the hearing by a curious crowd. Criss, who was on the witness stand in his own defence, denied completely having knowledge of the theft. He denied the story of his wife, told when she admitted the theft, and made an open confession in court a week ago, to the effect that arrangements for her to go to Devilbiss rooms and take the money were made by Criss. Denied the testimony of Chief of Police Canaday Harry Schweibold, C. W. Adair and others regarding the roll of money he displayed the day after the theft and denied the accusation of Prosecutor Smith that he took the girl to Lima and married her in order to hide her from the police, and shield himself because he knew a wife could not testify against her husband.

Prosecutor Harry Smith, scathingly arraigned the defendant in his argument to the jury. Criss was represented by Attorney Frank Dean.

NEW RECORD OF HOG PRICES THREATENED

Cleveland, Ohio.—On a rapidly rising market today, hogs threatened to set a new record for the Cleveland livestock market.

POLITICAL STORM CLEARING. London, May 17.—The political storm in Germany aroused by the peace terms, is clearing and more and more people are making it known that they want Germany to sign the treaty, said an Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Copenhagen.

This position is shared by some of the German cabinet members, the dispatch added.

Giant American Seaplane Which Flew Across Atlantic

from Trepassey Bay, to Horta, in the Azores. The NC-4 arrived first, making the trip in 15 hours and 18 minutes. The other two planes in the

COUNTER PROPOSALS TO PEACE TREATY ARE NEARLY READY

Berlin, May 16.—Counter proposals to the peace treaty probably will be completed Sunday, it was learned from an authoritative source today. Under the regulations governing the negotiations, the Germans have until May 22 to discuss the terms. Meetings have been called for Sunday in the Reichstag and elsewhere to protest against signing of the treaty. Some minor officials declare the terms will not be accepted unless they are modified.

"We will not sign for the purpose of escaping from the consequences of such a stand," said one official. "It is impossible to carry out provisions of the treaty and we do not wish the world to continue thinking that Germany regards treaties as mere scraps of paper."

HALF OF QUOTA FOR XENIA IS RAISED

The Centenary campaign for funds in Xenia officially open on Sunday May 18. That the campaign will be a success is indicated by the fact that nearly one half of the quota of the First Methodist church and Trinity M. E. churches has been pledged in advance by a few people. The quota assigned the First Methodist church is $32,155. The advance pledges secured by that church amount to $16,100. The Trinity church quota is $19,100. The church now has pledges amounting to $8,740.

The morning services at these two churches have been set aside Sunday for the making of pledges by the congregations. Workers from both churches will canvass the city in the afternoon.

WILSON'S MESSAGE TO CONGRESS ARRIVES

White House officials refused to discuss the contents of the message further than to state that it contained about 4,500 words.

BRITISH AIRMEN READY TO START

St. Johns, N. F., May 17.—Harry Hawker, British airman, and Captain F. P. Rayburn, Australian flyer, announced this morning that they would likely start their trans-Atlantic flight for the British Isles this afternoon.

They were probably influenced in this decision by the jump off by the Americans yesterday.

CANT ACCEPT TERMS.

POLICEMAN IS HELD FOR SHOOTING TO KILL

Cleveland, May 17.—Policeman Alfred Fry faced two charges of shooting to kill as a result of the shooting late yesterday of James Schaffer, a discharged soldier of Cincinnati, and Ross Magnus, a discharged sailor of Portland, Oregon.

Schaffer's condition was serious today, but Magnus was not in danger. Both were shot through the abdomen. The shooting followed an altercation in an East 22nd street saloon. Fry was off duty at the time and claims that he was assaulted by the former soldier and sailor upon leaving the saloon.

NEW WORLD'S RECORD OVERSEAS FLIGHT MADE BY THE SEAPLANE NC-4

London, May 17.—(5:40 p. m.)—All three American Seaplanes have reached Azores according to dispatches reaching here this afternoon. The last seaplane to arrive landed at Azores at 1:35 p. m.

Washington, D. C., May 17.—The NC 1 passed station nineteen which is nine hundred and fifty miles out from Trepassey, at 6:14 Washington time. At 5:15 a. m. the NC 3 was reported between stations seventeen and eighteen and off her course.

Washington, May 17.—An American seaplane, the NC-4, "Jinx boat" of Commander Towers' trans-Atlantic flying fleet, established a world's record in overseas flight today. The plane was in charge of Lieut. Commander A. C. Read.

When the word reached the navy department here this morning, the famous "Nancy" had reached Horta, in the Azores group, she had officially covered 2,200 miles of the flight from Rockaway to England. The leg covered since last night when she "hoisted anchor" at Trepassey, is 1,200 miles and she made a record of 80 miles an hour.

All Washington was thrilled at the NC-4's feat. It surpassed the most radiant expectations of naval officials.

She is only 150 miles from Ponta Delgada, and has travelled the longest leg in the navy's attempt to blaze an air trail to Europe.

Commander Read made the flight of 1,200 miles in 15 hours and 18 minutes, figuring his arrival at 9:25 today.

This was against a scheduled time of approximately 20 hours.

This was an average speed of nearly 80 miles an hour, as against an expected average of around 60 miles an hour.

His accomplishment passed even the most optimistic expectations.

Previously naval officials had expected the NC-4 to go to Ponta Delgada, 150 miles further, in view of the progress she was making.

Commander Read's feat was applauded by naval officials in view of the troubles of the early flight, which put him behind the others.

AMERICA TO KEEP TROOPS ON RHINE FOR FIVE YEARS

Paris, May 17.—The United States has definitely agreed to keep troops on the Rhine and to keep the United States flag flying over German territory for at least five years, it was learned in American official circles here today.

One American delegate said that the American force would be limited to a small number of troops, probably volunteers. The fashion in which Germany carries out the terms of the treaty will determine if troops shall be maintained on the Rhine for a longer period.

REPORT IS DENIED.

Copenhagen, May 17.—The report that General Mannheim's Finnish (anti-Bolshevik) army is just outside of Petrograd, in its advance into Russia, was denied by the Russian ex-gation here.

PADEREWSKI RESIGNS POST AS PREMIER

Warsaw, May 16.—Via London, May 17.—Premier Paderewski, of Poland, has resigned because the Diet refused to support his pledge to the allies that the offensive of the Polish army cease, but the resignation was not accepted.

Leaders of the Polish Diet are urging that the offensive against the Germans be pushed to the utmost.

General Pilsuleki, one of the chief leaders of the Polish army, is supporting the premier and has already countermanded the order to attack Galicia. The political situation in Poland is becoming acutely grave.

RAILROAD MEN ARE EXPECTED TO FAVOR GOVERNMENT CONTROL

Columbus, May 17.—That the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen in convention in this city will go on record as favoring the continuation of government control of railroads is the prediction of many delegates today. Just what the convention will favor is not known, but some definite policy will be outlined, it is said.

The sentiment in favor of government control comes from individual delegates who come from the different locations of the United States and Canada. This sentiment seems to be overwhelmingly in favor of some sort of government supervision.

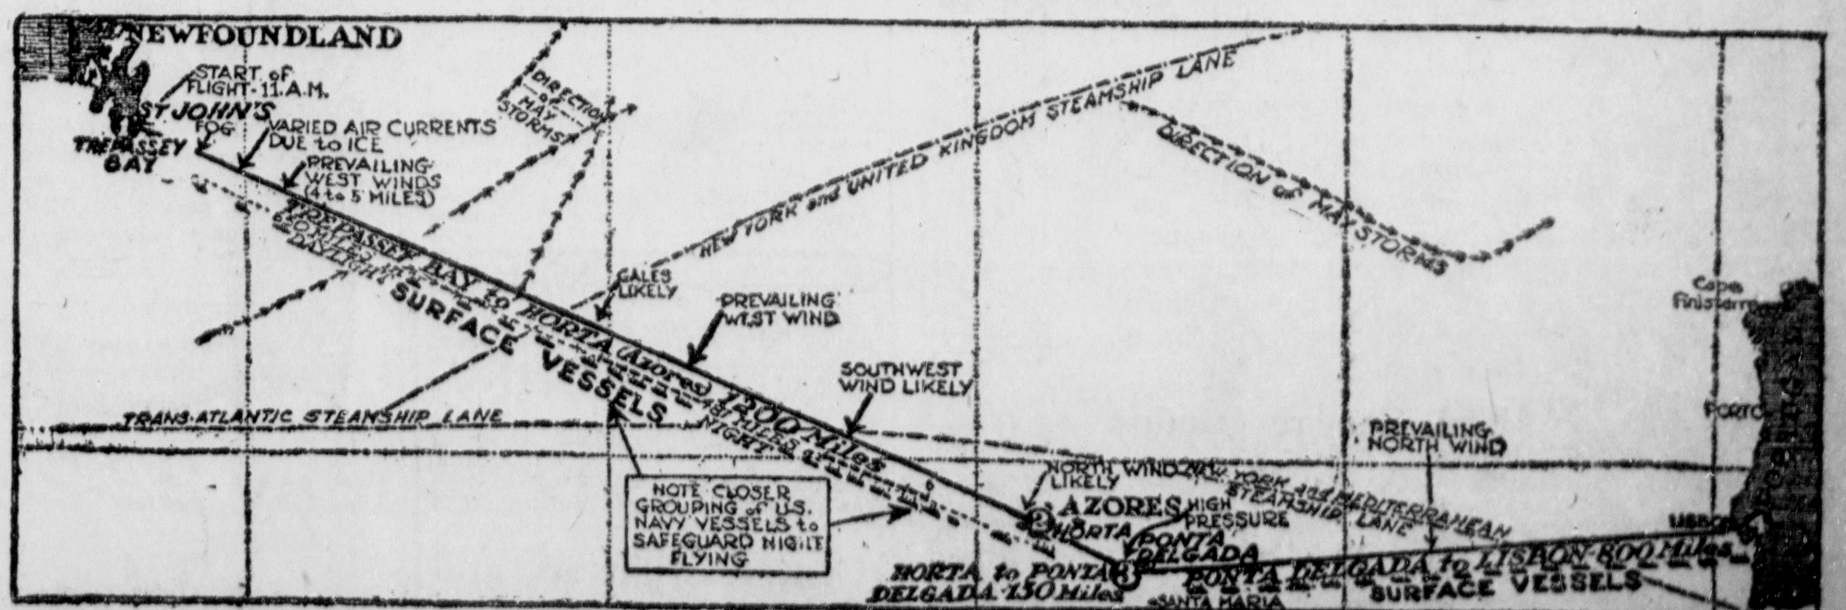

In his address to the delegates, A. F. Duffy, Washington, D. C., manager of the safety department of the railroad administration declared that during the last six months railroad casualties have been reduced 20 per cent largely through the efforts of railroad men themselves.

Twenty five hundred attended the ball at Memorial Hall last night.

WINNIPEG CUT OFF FROM OUTSIDE WORLD

Winnipeg, Man., May 17.—Winnipeg is virtually isolated today as the result of the action of press, broker and commercial telegraphers in joining the general strike which has paralyzed industries here. More than 30,000 men, holding membership in 80 unions, have gone on strike.

Don't burn good fuel
in a poor stove

It's a useless waste of good fuel and a needless extravagance to try to burn it in a poor stove. It is absolutely wrong to expect good food to supply energy, vitality, health and happiness if your stomach won't absorb and assimilate it. If you cannot eat with enjoyment, if your food does you no good, if food distresses rather than benefits, then you have indigestion or dyspepsia. The best remedy to use is PEPsinco.

X. H. S. ALUMNI
BANQUET PLANNED FOR NEAR FUTURE

An Alumni banquet this year, the first to be held for several years, is the promise of James D. Adair, president of the Alumni Association.

Extensive arrangements are now being made for the affair, which will be held Friday, June 13. The combination of Friday, the Thirteenth, with the "13 soap," which was the key-point to this year's class play, "It Pays to Advertise," is a co-incidental tribute to the incoming Class of 1919, which will be received at the time of the banquet. An effort is being made to secure Fred C. Kelly, well known Alumnus, to speak at the affair.

According to present plans, the affair will be held in the dining room of the Business Men's Association, where the Junior reception was staged Friday night.

While the banquet will not be an elaborate affair, it will be satisfying and a delightful departure from the ice cream and cake sort of refreshments that marked the Alumni receptions in the past.

About 150 members of the Association and the incoming class will be present at the affair, for which invitations will be sent out with a card by which the member can acknowledge the invitation and promise his attendance.

The Alumni banquets in the past were a big feature of the school year and a fitting climax to the series of commencement affairs which mark this time of year, and it is hoped that they will be revived by this affair.

A small sum will be charged in addition to the regular dues of 25 cents, in order to pay for the banquet.

Citizens' Committee Urges Voters to Approve Bond Issue For Street Paving.

Xenia, Ohio, May 16, 1919.

Mr. Clarence S. Frazer, President, Business Men's Club, Xenia, Ohio.
Dear Sir:

With respect to one of the questions to be submitted to the voters of Xenia City on Tuesday, May 20th, viz.: that calling for authority to the city administration to issue bonds to provide for the cost of paving certain streets named in an ordinance regularly adopted by the city commissioners; the undersigned committee, organized at your request, has, after investigating the proposal, concluded that the said bond issue should be authorized and the improvements carried out as expeditiously as possible. It is well known that two of the approaches to the city are in a deplorable condition and certain connecting links between streets already paved in no better shape.

We have found that some misunderstanding seems to exist concerning the manner in which the obligation to be assumed is to be met. The total cost is estimated in round numbers at a maximum of $200,000.00. The city will pay but two per cent of that sum, or $4,000.00 plus the actual cost to the city for intersections. The total estimate of the cost to the city for intersections and the two per cent before mentioned is $25,000.00.

As an illustration of the meaning to the property owner residing on a street already paved, who is paying taxes on a valuation of $2,000.00, it can be calculated with safety that his share of the total expense for the improvement will be but sixty cents yearly for a period of ten years.

The burden will, of course, be borne by the property owners on the streets to be improved. We believe they are willing to bear it. We believe further that were it proposed to residents of those streets already paved to take up the paving and restore them to their former condition, refunding to the tax payer the original cost plus interest, a riot would ensue unless the change was to be followed by the construction of new and better paved streets.

Voters of Xenia City should carry with them to the polls on Tuesday next the thought that more than sixty per cent of the entire cost for the improvements will go to labor. To put it still more plainly, the estimate of the sum to be so expended is $129,000.00.

It is to be hoped that our citizens will not confuse the paving question with the other issue to be presented for their consideration at the election on next Tuesday. There is no connection between the projects and the paving improvement proposition is submitted for the ratification of the voters purely on its own merits.

AMAZING MOVEMENT— SPIRITUALISM SWEEP— ING ENGLAND.

Not the least interesting of the many revolutionary post-war waves sweeping over Great Britain is that of spiritualism. Lord Rayleigh, scientist, and Sir Arthur Conan Doyle are among its latest and most widely featured exponents. With his usual "sang froid" Doyle has boldly taken his stand upon the public platform alongside Sir Oliver Lodge, Sir William Barrett and Dr. A. R. Wallace, and in a recent tour of Scotland and North England he addressed more than fifty thousand people.

He says "Spiritualism is the biggest thing that has come into the world, and it is what the hearts of war victims—bereaved fathers, mothers and wives—are crying out for, consciously or unconsciously."

A profound impression is always made by Sir Arthur when he tells his audience: "We believe in the depths of our souls that our heroes are here with us now and are not lying on the fields of Flanders or Picardy or on the sands of Kut, Mesopotamia or Palestine. They tell us that our mourning casts a cloud upon their happiness; that we should carry them with us in our lives and retain them as members of the family circle."

Clergy all over the United Kingdom are aghast at the inroads of spiritualism under the direction of zealous converts. Their sermon attacks have only served to stimulate greater interest in the offered evidence of spirit recognition. New headquarters for soul readings, seances for investigators and clinics for shellshock victims are opening up all over London. Public services are held every Sunday and Monday evenings in Steinway Hall and they are crowded.

A correspondent talked with the widow of an officer of the Gordon Highlanders, who insisted she was in touch with her husband who was killed in France, and that he was directing her daily life. Another convert is the father of two dead sons, who alleged that he was holding nightly chats with his boys. I have conversed with many others who claimed to have bridged to the other world and all insist they began their investigations of psychical phenomena absolutely sceptical.

There are two groups active, one holding dark-room seances and the other advocates of light-room seances. Tom Thomas, a medium, admits it is impossible to make a dark seance fraud-proof, but he welcomes honest, wide-awake investigators, adding: "If a medium has powers which can only be demonstrated in the dark, then darkness is no evidence that genuine phenomena do not occur."

The general opinion one hears everywhere is that if spiritualism eases the pain of any aching heart and restores gladness, then it is a good thing, no matter what its detractors may say.

"BIG ANNIE" GETS A LONG TERM IN WORKS

"Big Annie" Johnson, colored, was sent to the work house Friday morning by Police Judge E. Dawson Smith to work out a fine of $500 and costs imposed a year ago on a charge of bootlegging.

At the time, "Big Annie" carried the case to higher courts and the decision of the probate court was sustained recently by the Circuit Court and the case certified back to the Police Court. Friday morning she was unable to furnish the amount of the fine and was taken to the work house.

REPEAL OF LUXURY TAXES PROMISED

Washington, May 17.—Speedy repeal of the luxury taxes the American people are paying was promised today by Rep. Moore of Pennsylvania, who ranks second in the membership of the house ways and means committee. Moore, who is one of the chief lieutenants of Rep. Mann, Illinois, who is expected to retain his leadership of the Republican organization in the house, said that as soon as the house met on Monday at noon he would introduce a resolution calling for the repeal of that section of the revenue bill imposing the luxury taxes.

EX-PRESIDENT TAFT GIVES THE REPUBLICAN PARTY A WARNING.

The Republican members of the United States Senate are usually designated as belonging to either the "Regulars" or the "Progressives." In this characterization of them the thought is mostly that the Regulars belong to the Round-Robin Anti League Members, and that the Progressives are of the class not so politically hide-bound to their party but that they are willing to vote for whatever they deem essential to the welfare of the country wholly free from partisanship.

In these days of nations hanging in the balance of "to be, or not to be," the highest patriotism demands that every man should look at his every act as demanding justice above everything else. He is a traitor to humanity who dares to do injustice for party ends. We have only one life to live, and at its end we are called to a tribunal of accounting. Besides, before this last answerable day, we have a constant monitor in our own breasts which is quite likely to tinge us severely when we have knowingly done wrong.

We believe a very large proportion of the people of this nation regard the proposed League of Nations as one of the highest motives, inspired by a great sense of justice, and the hope of mankind to keep from the barbaric system of warfare which has long been the practice of the world. It proposes to do this, and certainly it is worth the trial, the more especially at the end of a cyclone of death, misery and desolation such as the world has just passed through.

In the wonderful hope that this great measure may be able to accomplish what it proposes, why should any man oppose it—why should any party think of making opposition to it a party issue. We believe it would be the death-knell to any party that does so.

Addressing members of the Columbia Club at a luncheon in his honor at Indianapolis, Tuesday, former President William H. Taft warned the Republicans not to be too sure of victory next year, although he held that the outlook is bright for Republican success.

Mr. Taft said that opposition to the League of Nations and opposition merely because President Wilson and the Democratic party favors it might injure the Republican party in the next campaign.

"Speaking for myself," said Mr. Taft, "I feel that party opposition to the League of Nations will be a grave mistake from the standpoint of political expediency. The issue as to the League of Nations is non-partisan and should be kept so. No one should oppose it as advocated by Mr. Wilson and brought to the Senate by him as the head of the Administration. It should stand upon its merits."

"I venture that if the peace treaty is ratified with the League of Nations covenant in it, the league will not figure in the next campaign as an issue. If, however, opposition to the league on partisan grounds defeats it and postpones the coming of peace by throwing the whole peace treaty back to a conference, responsibility for such a result will be an unnecessary burden for the Republican party to carry in the next campaign."

Many Kinds of "Money."

Anything that is used in trade as a medium of exchange or a measure of value, recognized alike by both parties to a transaction, is money. It may be wampum, skins of animals, shells, metal or paper, but if by government authority or by common consent it is recognized as a medium of exchange or a measure of value it is money. Even live animals have served the purposes and uses of money.

BAB APPROPRIATES A LETTER SHE SEES UPON NEIL'S OFFICE DESK.

I felt positive the letter inside that envelope was from Blanche Orton. I had received invitations and acceptances from her, and could not be mistaken in the writing. I blushed with shame but I finally had the letter in my bag. Aunt had risen to look at the view as I spoke of it, and it had given me a chance to slip it in. I would find out what she had to say to my husband.

"Shall we go now?" I asked. "We do not want to miss the first of the play." I was anxious to get away before Neil came in. He might miss the letter, and ask me if I had seen it. I was ashamed of myself, yet I fairly ached to see what was in that letter. How could I wait until the play was over? I decided I would not. I would excuse myself and go to the ladies dressing room after the first act and then read it.

As we passed the stenographer going out she asked meaningly:

"Shall I tell Mr. Forbes you called?"

"Certainly!" I replied in my cold, stony tones. "Tell him Mrs. Forbes and his Aunt were here."

She made no reply, but I saw a significant glance she threw to the bookkeeper. It angered me, and yet I was still more incensed at myself because of the flush which I knew she had observed.

"I don't like that girl's looks nor her manner. She seemed very pert to me," Aunt remarked as we gained the street.

"She is. I wish Neil would discharge her. But I don't like to speak of it. There is so much said of wives being jealous of good looking office girls, you know. He might think me jealous."

"Nonsense! you say you have only been there once before. I shall tell him that she isn't at all calculated to help his business if she acts with others as she did with us today." I made no reply, hoping Aunt would be able to get Neil to discharge the girl yet knowing all the time that it was due to my own actions the day I had visited the office in Neil's absence that she had been pertly annoying. Aunt chatted until we reached the theater. I scarcely heard a word she said so anxious was I to read the letter that I had taken from Neil's desk. We had good seats, and Aunt seemed to enjoy the play from the very beginning. I paid scant attention to the stage, so fixed upon the letter was my mind. To my disappointment there were but two acts. I should have to wait some time for the intermission. I spent the time speculating upon the contents of the letter, and whether Neil would return to his office and miss it. He had said something about club at luncheon. I wished I had listened more closely. I had not considered what I was to say if he missed the letter and his stenographer told him I had been in his private office. But now I commenced to worry about it and wondered if there was not some way I could get the letter back on his desk after I had read it.

The first act ended. I excused myself to aunt and went to the ladies room. I took the letter from my bag, and finding a chair removed as far as possible from others who had sought the room for the sake of arranging their hair or using a powder puff, I commenced to read. First glancing at the signature. As I had expected Blanche Orton's name stared up at me.

"Dear Neil," it began, "I tried my best to get Frederick to come tonight. I got him on the telephone and urged him, telling him anything I could think of that would prove enticing. He was absolutely adamant. He pretended he would have liked to come if only you and Scott or Thompson were to be here. You know how blunt he is, and it was all I could do to keep pleasant when he intimated he thought I was doing wrong to receive T. and C." I knew she must refer to Tealrie and Connor. "However, I have asked H. He is very rich, and a bit crazy over me so perhaps I can help you land him. Anyway it was the best I could do. Nancy and Lulu will come, and Scott and Thompson. Try and be early as there are some things I want to tell you that I hate to put on paper. As ever, Blanche."

I sat with the letter clutched in my hand. What was this intimacy between my husband and Mrs. Orton? What did it mean? It was in no sense a love letter, yet really I felt more anxious, more fearful of what it might mean than had it been. I was so ignorant, and so much had been said to worry me about Neil. Not until the orchestra stopped playing did I remember that I had a guest. I crumpled the letter in my bag, and gained my seat just as the curtain rose on the last act.

Knocking on Wood.

The superstition of rapping on wood after a boast of a piece of luck is of European origin. The raps were supposed to drive away evil spirits vexed by others' good fortune. The raps later signified the Trinity, and the necessity for rapping on wood was because that was the material of the cross. The expression dates from a custom in vogue five thousand years ago.

"BEER IS DEAD, LONG LIVE ICECREAM"

San Francisco, Ma 17.—Prohibition will see at least one brewery in San Francisco transformed into an ice cream manufacturing plant.

On June 1 the California Brewing Association will become the Fairy Ice Cream Company. P. Morgensen, dairy produce man, of Redwood City, will head the new venture, and present officers of the California Brewing Association, it was said, will probably be associated with Morgensen in the ice cream business.

With the country becoming dry July 1, owners of the brewery thought they had a white elephant on their hands until Morgensen came along and suggested that the plant be utilized for the manufacture of cream.

With the demise of beer and other alcoholic drinks, the consumption of ice cream will become enormous, Morgensen predicts, and he wants to be in on the ground floor when the demand becomes epidemic.

Up-to-date machinery is being installed in the old brewery. Morgensen plans to manufacture ice cream on a large scale.

"Beer is dead. Long live ice cream," is his cry.

SEEKS DIVORCE

Alleging extreme cruelty, Bessie Wombold has brought suit, asking for divorce from Perry Wombold, to whom she was married in January, 1911.

They have three children. She says that the defendant owns considerable personal property on the farm where they are living near Perry, and she asks for alimony and custody of the children.

Wombold is now in the workhouse, where he was sentenced by Probate Judge Marshall for a vicious assault upon his wife one day this week.

POOR HOUSING CONDITIONS IN XENIA DISCUSSED BY CITY MANAGER RIDDLE

City Manager Kenyon Riddle explained his housing plan for relieving living conditions among poor people in Xenia, to the delegates attending the regional conference on Home Service of the Lake Division of the Red Cross, Friday forenoon.

Manager Riddle blamed lack of proper community spirit such as the Red Cross is fostering in its Home Service for the fact that a deplorable housing condition among the very poor exists in this city. This lack, he said, was responsible for the city's failure to have parks, playgrounds, community clubs, baseball diamond athletic field, Y. M. C. A., and social organizations such as promote community welfare. A fine individual spirit is shown, he said, in prosperous business, a nice residence, etc. While there is a lack of money for such purposes, Mr. Riddle said a better community spirit would result in more financial aid forthcoming.

Dr. Ben R. McClellan, who was captain in the medical service, and was chief of the surgical staff of Debarbation Hospital No. 3, New York City, when he received his discharge a few months ago, endorsed the Home Service work very heartily and urged throughout organization and co-operation with existing social and health organizations, so that the efforts of none might be squandered.

Regarding health conditions, he said, people have a right to understand how to prevent disease, and to live and rear and educate their children under conditions that are healthful and uplifting, instead of degrading and disease breeding. "God-speed the day," he said, when the man who thinking only of the almighty dollar, maintains and rents for living purposes houses where people can not live and rear their children in decency, will be looked upon as nefarious, and a shame to the community.

Miss Anza Johnson, public health nurse in Xenia, told of the work accomplished by the classes in home nursing and hygiene, which have been taught in this city and county by trained nurses working under the local chapter of the Red Cross. During the influenza epidemic of last fall and winter, Miss Johnson said when doctors and nurses were all busy, the benefits derived by mothers and daughters in afflicted families from their home nursing courses were of great benefit.

The final session of the conference Friday afternoon was devoted to a general discussion of matters of interest to the delegates and workers. Lawrence Cole field director in north-eastern Ohio explained the war risk insurance, at length. Miss Eva B. Sage, field director in southern Ohio, talked on Inter Chapter Relationships, and Miss Caroline Berham of Columbus, who was engaged in camp work at Chillicothe for months, gave a description of the manner of service required there, when war workers and their families crowded to the city, facilities for taking care of the sick or housing even the well were inadequate.

Most of the delegates left Xenia for their homes Friday afternoon. Miss Eva B. Sage, and Miss Virginia Wing, who were in charge of the conference, were very much pleased with its success, and with the number of persons from the southern Ohio counties who attended.

FORMER KAISER REPORTED TO RE BACK IN GERMANY

Paris, May 17.—The former kaiser and his secretary left the castle at Amerongen, Holland, a month ago, and are now living in the German province of Baden, under the names of Herzog and Von Hilde, the Carnet De La Semaine declared today.

INTERESTING MEETING MISSIONARY SOCIETY

The home of Mrs. W. A. Galloway was opened Friday afternoon to the members of the Women's Missionary Society of the Presbyterian church, and hostesses with Mrs. Galloway were Mrs. O. A. Spahr, Mrs. O. M. Whittington and Mrs. Bert Winters.

Two interesting papers were read by Mrs. Reed Madden and Miss Flora Nisbet. The hostesses served tea and home made doughnuts. Thirty-two enjoyed the hospitality of Mrs. Galloway's home.

Remember One's Limitations.
In the moral world there is nothing impossible, if we put a thorough will to it. Man can do everything with himself; but he must not attempt to do too much with others.—Humboldt.

Your Battery's Different

There is one part of your new car that is different from all the rest—your battery.

For storage batteries are chemical—not mechanical.

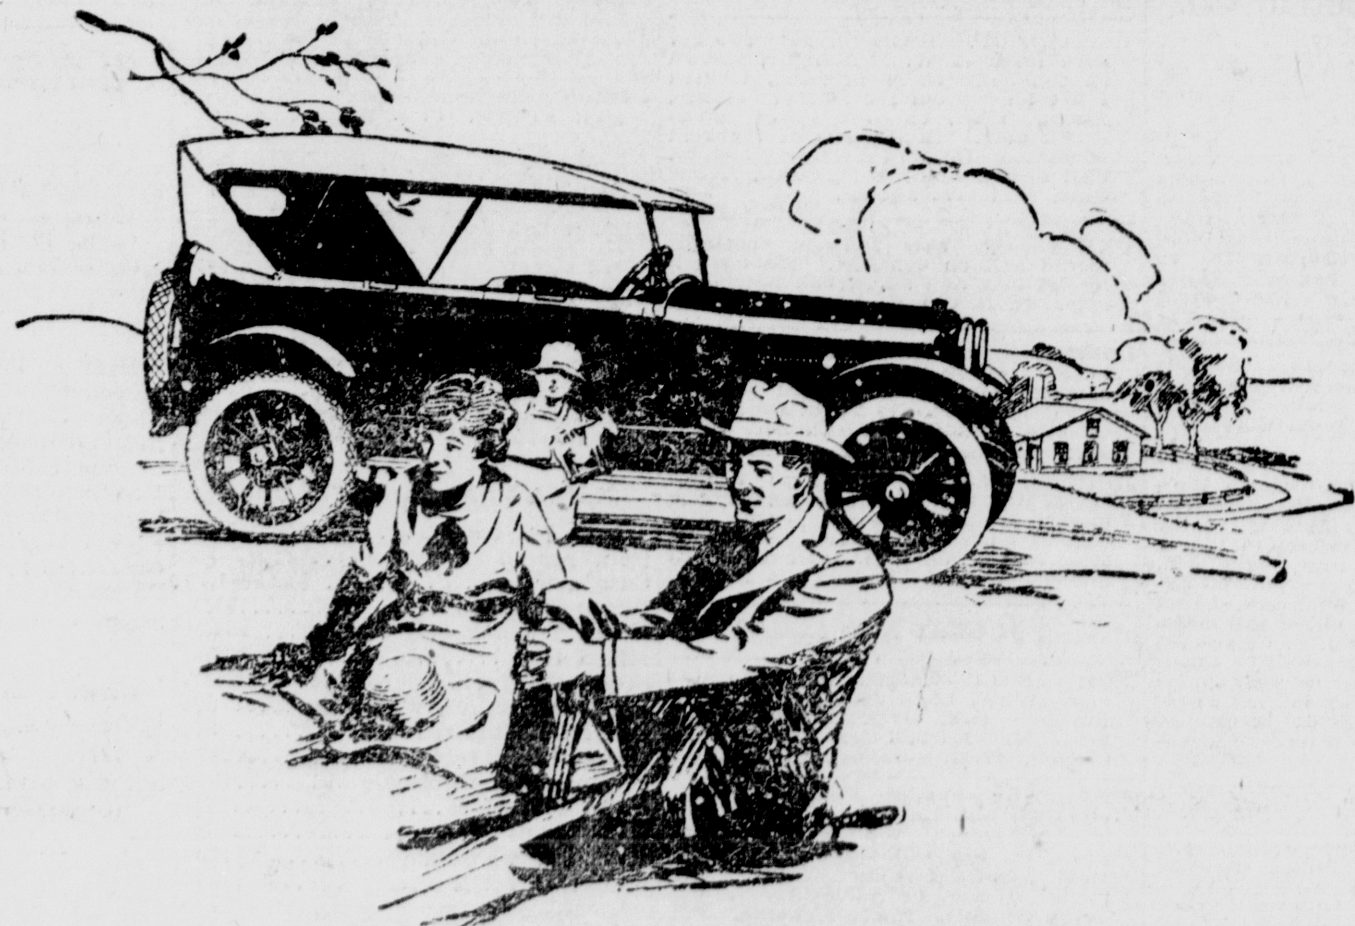

The time to begin taking care of that battery is the first day that you get your new car. If you do this, your battery will not only last longer, but it will give you better service as long as it is in use.

So when you buy your new car, the very first thing to do is to come to us for full instructions. We will register your battery, and at the same time will be glad to give you a copy of the booklet, "Willard Service and You."
